

MERCURY HITS 20° BELOW

Sub-Zero Cold Grips Midwest

No doubt about it, the weather was the big news this past week. Even bulletins about the assassination of an African leader and President Kennedy's State-of-the-Union message to Congress, asking for a sizeable cut in taxes, failed to take people's minds off the subject that claimed their attention — trying to keep warm while the mercury dipped to new lows.

Cars refused to budge until started by tow trucks or battery jumping; furnaces failed as moisture froze in oil lines; drains froze and power lines broke, and across the midwest, heating units pushed to capacity, started fires.

In Antioch, the Conservation Club's Ice Fishing Derby suffered from the ten-below-zero weather, accompanied by a high wind, on Sunday. It was estimated that 2,500 braved the cold.

Tuesday's official reading, according to Postmaster Kufalk, was 10 degrees below zero. Predictions that Tuesday night's temperature would equal the record low of the night before failed to materialize, as the temperature rose to 10 degrees below zero.

Proving that every generation has to make its own mistakes, one of the pupils at the Grass Lake School found his tongue painfully glued to the iron railing of school steps after assaying a lick at same. Hot water poured on the metal released him, a sadder but wiser boy.

If you thought it was cold here, consider Minneapolis, which reported a record 32 degrees below zero. Or Black River Falls, Wis., which reported 50 below.

Mercury Motor Co. in Antioch Has Been Sold

The former Kopper-Picone Motor Co. on South Main St. is now the Hensley Motor Co.

The Motor Company, dealing in Mercurys and Jeeps, changed hands Saturday.

New owner of the business is Phil Hensley, who has been with Cadillac Motor dealers in Chicago and Lake Bluff for the past 14 years.

Mr. Kopper and Mr. Picone have taken over a Lincoln-Mercury dealership west of Chicago, Mr. Hensley says. It is much larger than the one in Antioch.

Mr. Hensley announced that the entire personnel at the Antioch Mercury Motor Co. will be remaining with the new owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensley live in Lake Bluff. They have a twelve-year-old daughter and a son, Mark, 15, who attends Lake Forest High School. Mark holds five swimming records.

Mr. Hensley is a graduate of the University of Alabama. His hobbies are swimming and sail boating. He has a sail boat anchored in Great Lakes Harbor in the summer for leisure hour enjoyment.

Mr. Denoyer said, "That night the Grove School Board will honor the Honorable Dr. W. C. Petty, Lake County Superintendent of Schools for his outstanding service to the children whom the school serves."

Denoyer further stated, "Dr. Petty has been a leading light for the school and its staff and has been a great source of inspiration to Mrs. Edward Matson, the Director, and her Associate Director, Mrs. Arthur Weston. We of the Grove School, Inc., are especially appreciative of the fact that Mr. Page is coming to Lake Forest to help us honor Dr. Petty." This will be Page's first public appearance after assuming the office of State Superintendent on January 14.

High School Maps Plans For Survival In Atomic Attack

A complete plan of action has been mapped out by the Civil Defense organization at Antioch High School in case the U. S. were ever to be involved in a nuclear attack. Three plans have been mapped out to protect students in case warning of attack is received at the High School.

The high school is in communication with Civil Defense headquarters. If a warning should come through the school administration would announce it over the intercom system and would instruct the students as to which plan is in effect.

Plan No. 1 will be used, if there is sufficient time for students to be loaded onto buses and dropped off at local points or within walking distance of their homes.

Plan No. 2 will be used if there is insufficient time to evacuate. Students will be moved to the tunnel under the new addition; if the plan is given approval by Army engineers. Students will take part in a drill under this plan in the near future.

Plan No. 3 will be used only if there is not sufficient time to use Plans 1 or 2. A successful drill using this plan has already been held.

The purpose of plan 3 is to provide immediate protection against the three elements of atomic attack—shock wave, light wave and heat wave. Protection against radiation must be afforded after the attack.

Taking all the elements into consideration, it has been decided that the safest immediate place would be the corridors outside classrooms.

Students have been informed of the steps which will include:

1. The school will receive the warning from the North American Radiological Defense Organization.

2. The school administrator will give the warning over the public address system with information or instructions.

3. The instructor of each class will instruct certain students to close windows and pull shades.

4. The teacher will instruct students where they are to go and what they are to do.

5. Students have been instructed how to place themselves to protect against injury.

6. Further instructions will be given, after the attack, by the school administrator, depending on circumstances.

Members of the faculty have been assigned to certain duties, and faculty members trained in First Aid have been assigned to strategic positions. First Aid equipment is stocked in several areas. Civil Defense Radiation Detection equipment has also been assigned to certain faculty members, and they have been trained in the use of it or will soon receive training. A portable radio has also been ordered.

Douglas Risberg is Civil Defense Co-ordinator for the school.

Heart Drive Committee Named; Need Helpers

A committee designed to give the 1963 Antioch Heart Fund campaign the broadest coverage possible was announced today by Chairman, Mrs. John Wagner. The drive, conducted to gain funds for research, education and community services in the many areas of heart and blood vessel diseases, will be held from February 1st to February 28th.

Serving on the committee are four recruiting officers: Mrs. Roy Kufalk, Mrs. Samuel Ries, Mrs. Carl Goerlitz and Mrs. Harry Weiss. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gressens will direct the business solicitation drive. Mr. Preston Reckers, Jr., is treasurer, and Mrs. Donald Purdy is handling public relations. Mrs. Leonard Roblin will work closely with the committee in her capacity as co-chairman of the overall campaign.

Mrs. Wagner issued a call for volunteers. The volunteers will conduct a door-to-door Heart Sunday canvass on February 24, performing two important services. They distribute important educational information about the heart and they receive contributions to the Heart Fund to fight heart diseases. Mr. Maurice Loven, an experienced campaigner, has volunteered to recruit help in outlying areas and will be in charge of posters.

Mrs. Wagner pointed out that previous experience is not needed to help in the door-to-door canvass, and a special kit will be provided to all who volunteer. Antioch residents who wish to help may phone Mrs. Wagner at 395-4264, or anyone on her committee.

Yes, Antioch Did Show a Business Rise

If, by any chance, you read both the Antioch News and the Grayslake Times, you may be rather confused as of now.

The Antioch News carried a front-page story last week concerning a Dun & Bradstreet report on Lake County businesses. We reported that Antioch is one of six Lake County communities showing an increase in the number of businesses operating in 1962 over 1961. We also reported that Grayslake and Fox Lake along with

Lions Elect, Make Plans For 1963

The installation of new officers was the highlight of the evening at the first meeting of 1963 for the Antioch Lions Club Monday night at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

In taking over the reins for the coming year, new President Leonard Roblin announced that the main project would again be support of the Club sponsored swimming pool.

Other officers installed at the dinner affair Monday were Marvin Heath, 1st vice president; Tom Haviland, 2nd vice president; Maynard Schneider, 3rd vice president; Dan Dugenski, secretary; Bill Seemann, treasurer; Leo Keisler, Lion tamer; Jim Fields, tail twister, and Bernard Osmond, Preston Reckers, Jr., Walker Lyons and Ward Lear as directors.

The members heard a report on the forthcoming Ladies' Night dinner dance from Edward Jacobs, committee chairman. The dance will be held at the Illinois State Park Lodge at Zion, Jacobs affair has not been set as yet.

The meeting was then turned over to the Swimming Pool Corporation for their annual report. The group learned that for the third straight year the pool has paid for its own operation costs.

The club has had to rely on outside fund raising activities to pay off the pool's indebtedness and interest. Upwards of $4,000 was raised last year for this purpose.

Besides the pool the club has been active in many other projects the past year. It was learned. Several needy people were fitted for glasses at the club's expense, and a screening device for testing the sight of all grade school students was donated to the area's grade schools. These as well as donations to many charities were just some of the club's other activities, the members learned.

Three members were elected to the Pool board in a climax of the meeting. New directors named were Bob Wilton, Jr., Ed Martin and Dick Radke. The three are replacing Pres Reckers, Dr. A. Bucar and Marvin Heath.

Motor Vehicle Inspection

The Lake County Safety Commission has come out in favor of compulsory motor vehicle inspection. Also in favor of this move are the National Safety Council, Junior Chambers of Commerce throughout Illinois, and the Highway Safety Association of Illinois.

This reminds us of an article we read some time ago in Reader's Digest. It reported the findings of an independent group which had taken it upon themselves to make a very intensive research into causes of certain types of motor vehicle accidents.

The accidents they were interested in were the ones which are attributed to high speed, losing control, etc. In fact, accidents in which the actual reason cannot be pinned down but only assumed.

They found that in a very high percentage of these accidents there had been a mechanical failure of some kind which either precipitated, or substantially contributed to, the accident. After long and careful research, they concluded that in more cases than anyone dreamed possible, mechanical failure was the basic cause of the accidents.

Their recommendations was considerably more drastic than that of the Lake County Safety Commission. They recommended that all garage mechanics be forced to pass state tests and be licensed to practice their trade.

They found much evidence of sloppy and ignorant work by so-called mechanics in their investigation. They pointed out that the garage mechanic, certainly as much as the beauty operator, holds your life in his hands when he assures you your car is in condition to drive.

Their campaign didn't get off the ground. But maybe compulsory motor vehicle inspection would at least force people to remedy known faults in their cars.

The Safety Commission recommends a legislative bill for passenger car inspection. Let's hope our busy legislators can find time to consider the matter.

It's that time again income tax time—and there's a lot of talk going around about the possibility and advisability of cutting taxes.

Most of the experts are engaged in figuring out and explaining to the public why there must be a cut in the taxes on profits made by businesses, so as to encourage business to expand and continue to operate.

We can see the logic in this. There isn't much point working and investing money if you aren't going to gain by it.

But all this talk brings to mind our strongest "wonder why." And that is why doesn't the government and the experts and the economists show some concern for the poor Joe who makes maybe $800 a year and has to pay a tax on it?

$800.00 a year would figure out to about $15.38 a week. And anyone who can live on $15.38 a week shouldn't have to pay a tax on it. In fact, he should be hired by the government at a comfortable wage to show them how to use money so that we can all get our taxes cut.

This unrealistic attitude of the government designed, presumably, in an effort to see to it that no one cheats Uncle Sam, in fact, we believe, is the basic cause of most of the dishonest or slightly shady practices indulged in by the American taxpayer. The government

The work of the 73rd General Assembly has begun. The administration program has been outlined to the legislators, and now the job before them is to work for the betterment of the residents of Illinois until final adjournment comes in little less than six months.

Partisanship cannot be in evidence in the deliberations of the General Assembly if the people are to be served. As I told the legislators in my message: "There is no Republican way of administering a state—hospital or school, no Democratic way of constructing a state highway or bridge."

Each legislator is charged with great responsibility, not only in behalf of his district, but for the entire state as well. Oftentimes, bills are approved or disapproved by a single vote. The vote of a legislator is equal to those of his colleagues, regardless of length of service, and he speaks in the name of his district and his state as strongly as anyone else in the chambers.

The power of a single vote in such a body of men and women is illustrated by the story of United States Sen. Edmund G. Ross whose vote was the deciding one that saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment—a vote that may well have also preserved constitutional government in this nation.

Ross, from Kansas, was a Republican and opposed to Johnson's policies, but he had vowed that this vote would be cast only after due consideration of evidence, despite the fact that all others had quickly taken sides.

Ross' party besieged him with threats and demands that he stand fast for impeachment. A New York newspaper said Ross was "mercilessly dragged this way and that by both sides."

Ross held fast, even though, as he said later, fortune, position and friendships were at stake for him. He had this to say of his decision: "I shall ever thank God that in that troubled hour of trial, when many privately confessed that they had sacrificed their judgment and their conscience at the behests of party, newspapers and party hates, I had the courage to be true to my oath and my conscience—no power could force me to decide on such a case contrary to my convictions, whether that party was composed of my friends or my enemies."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The seventh of February 1949 was one of the most important dates in the annals of modern dentistry. Designated by the American Dental Association as Children's Dental Health Day, it marked the first time that the tremendous importance of dental health for children was given recognition.

Scores of state and local dental societies observed the occasion by presenting special programs for their members, and educational programs for the community. The success of these initial efforts and the growing recognition that dentistry for children is synonymous with preventive dentistry prompted the American Dental Association to change the designated day to Children's Dental Health Week.

This year Children's Dental Health Week will be observed from February 3-9 by dentists, health leaders, and educators because it offers a specific opportunity to conduct worthwhile dental health programs for the benefit of all of our children.

The only way the dental profession, with its limited personnel, can improve the dental health of the nation is to concentrate its efforts on a preventive approach, while maintaining the mouth in a healthy condition. Obviously the most effective way to accomplish this end, is to focus our attention on children, by improving their diets, teaching them proper oral hygiene habits, and seeing that they get early and regular good dental care.

This, however, is not the responsibility of the dental profession alone. It is a responsibility that must be shared by all others interested in child care and child health. It requires the cooperation of teachers, school administrators, public health workers, community leaders, and most of all parents. We urge all these groups to join with us in a sustained effort to maintain and improve the health of our children.

Dr. Robert Way, Pres., Illinois Unit, American Society of Dentistry for Children

An Open Letter to the Board of Commissioners of the Forest Preserve District

Jan. 13, 1963
Hon. Taisto Aho, President, Board of Commissioners, Lake County Forest Preserve District, 516 Colville Place,
Waukegan, Illinois
My Dear Mr. Aho:

The Advisory Committee requests the postponement of the meeting you called for Tuesday, January 15, 1963, at 10 a.m., to a date and under conditions mutually acceptable both to the Board of Commissioners and to the Advisory Committee.

In its Formal Recommendation Number Eight, dated September 21, 1962, the Advisory Committee unanimously advised you that it would not meet with political nominees for the reasons outlined therein.

The Advisory Committee regretted to learn on Friday, January 4, that the meeting you called:

"... to discuss and/or resolve any differences in administration, cooperation, and general operations," included those political nominees and excluded the press and the public.

On that same date, the Advisory Committee requested that the meeting date be moved ahead one day, to January 14, so that the entire Advisory Committee could be present. You indicated that this was simple to arrange and further volunteered the suggestion, enthusiastically greeted by the Advisory Committee, that you would attempt to arrange that meeting as a preliminary one, with the Advisory Committee, and the Board of Commissioners committee chairman, and without the political nominees. Confirmation by phone was promised the following day, Saturday, January 5.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS 2

On Wednesday, January 9, of this last week, the individual members of the Advisory Committee received a postcard reminder from you that the January 15 meeting would be held as scheduled. Upon receipt of this card, the Chairman of the Advisory Committee phoned you to determine what the plans really were. You indicated that your committee chairman were not free to meet on Monday and that the Tuesday meeting would go ahead with the political nominees present.

The Advisory Committee's primary concern is that the highest code of tradition and ethics be implemented by the Lake County Forest Preserve District as it sets about its main objective, the acquisition of forest preserves. Its responsibility to the Board of Commissioners and to the Lake County Forest Preserve district remains constant; offering the best possible advice and guidance of which it is capable.

When the Board of Commissioners calls upon the Advisory Committee for meetings, the Advisory Committee is quite willing to meet, but only when its code of ethics is respected—without political nominees and in the presence of the press.

The Advisory Committee looks forward to a meeting with the Board of Commissioners, its Committees, its Officers, and is confident that a meeting entered into under conditions mutually acceptable will be successful and productive.

As Lake County's natural landscape disappears, at an increasing rate, it behooves the Board of Commissioners to be serious in its gestures with citizens and taxpayers of the county.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Frank Untermyer,
Chairman
The Advisory Committee

The appointment of State Representative W. J. Murphy, of Antioch, as House Majority Leader in the Illinois General Assembly underlines the adept political footwork of the veteran legislator.

Murphy, who is starting his fifth term as a member of the legislature, was a strong supporter of William Pollack, of Chicago, for the Speaker of the House post, but in return for his support the Antioch representative wanted assurance of a key post.

"Pollack declined to go beyond the familiar political escape clause of 'Don't worry Bill. We'll take care of you.'"

John W. Lewis, the successful candidate for the House Speaker post, was more specific in his promise to Murphy and the Lake County legislator took his bow tie and followers into the opposition camp.

Murphy's position as House Majority leader should be enough to protect Republican interests when the legislature gets around to redistributing the county into two legislative districts.

State Rep. Jack Bairstow, of Waukegan, who sits on the opposite side of the aisle, has submitted a redistricting proposal that would probably give each party three representatives in the lower house, a suggestion that will receive scant consideration from the GOP-controlled Assembly.

Waukegan Assistant Supervisor John Balen thought he had finally come up with a motion that would win county board support last week when he proposed that a picture of President Kennedy be hung in the Board of Supervisors' room in the courthouse.

This seemed like a reasonable request to Balen, who as the only member of the board elected as a Democrat, has encountered trouble even getting a second to his motions, but he failed to recognize the deep strength of Republican loyalty among his fellow supervisors.

At any rate Balen got six votes for his motion, but Pres. Kennedy couldn't muster the rest of the votes and so it's back to the White House for him.

There is considerable uncertainty about the future of a fourth Circuit Judge for the 19th Judicial Circuit, partly because two of the other districts which also rate a fourth judge because of their population have said, "No, thanks," and partly because the new judge would be elected at the regular June judicial election and under existing legislation he would probably continue as a June candidate while all other judges will be shifted to the general ballot in November.

It has been suggested that a bill will be introduced that would eliminate the section of law requiring the election of a fourth judge when the population reaches a specific figure.

A companion bill would be presented making it permissible, but not mandatory, to add a judge and in the new bill his election would come up in November with the other judges.

Since Circuit Judge Philip Yager, a Democrat, must run against another candidate for election in November, 1964, this maneuver would probably be acceptable to the Democrats because there would be two petitions open.

If the Democrats nominated just one man, the incumbent, and the GOP nominated

It's That Time Again— Don't Wait Till April 14

The 1963 Federal Income Tax filing period has begun. Every citizen or resident of the United States—whether an adult or minor—who had $600 or more gross income in 1962 is required to file a return. For taxpayers 65 or over, no return is required unless gross income was at least $1,200. E. C. Coyle, Jr., Director of Internal Revenue Service for this district announced.

Returns should be filed as soon after January 1st as possible, but no later than April 15, 1963. Taxpayers of the 26 counties of northern Illinois should file their returns with the District Director of Internal Revenue, 22 West Madison Street, Chicago 2, Illinois.

The Internal Revenue Service will offer assistance at local offices, by telephone, and information programs through newspapers, government publications, radio, and television.

Beginning January 28, 1963, the 20 local offices of the Chicago District will offer aid by the self-help group plan, which provides for assistance to taxpayers assembled in groups of 6 to 8, with an Internal Revenue Agent instructor to guide them in the preparation of their returns.

Help will be offered on Mondays only, as this day is designated as "Taxpayer Assistance Day", when a full staff of employees will be available to provide assistance.

Assistance will be offered through newspaper articles, regularly scheduled radio and television programs, and official U. S. Tax Guides, copies of which will be obtainable at local Internal Revenue offices.

Telephone service began on January 2, and will be maintained through April 15, 1963. As in past years, a staff of experts will be assigned to answer almost any Federal Tax question relating to the individual return.

Taxpayers with a problem or two may call the local office for a quick answer, thus enabling them to complete the preparation of their returns.

Telephone service in Chicago may be obtained by calling State 2-1060 and asking for Tax Information. Assistance may be obtained in Room 3, U. S. Courthouse, Dearborn and Adams Streets, and at three branch offices maintained at strategic points in the local communities. Due to limitation of space, no service will be available for preparation of tax returns at the District Office, 22 West Madison Street, Chicago, Ill. In the area outside of Chicago, there are 16 branch offices where taxpayers may call for advice and information.

Form Group To Study Jr. College

The Lake County Community College Association was formally organized at a meeting of the junior college survey committee on Jan. 7.

First action of the group was to elect officers. Roy Jones was named Chairman, Paul Burke, Vice Chairman; L. H. Rouse, secretary, and H. W. Pearce, treasurer.

The association is made up of 26 representatives of eight county high schools and five county chambers of commerce.

The groups are co-operating to defray the cost of the survey to determine the possibility and potentiality of establishing a junior college in Lake County.

The eight cooperating high schools are: Elmhurst, Grayslake, Libertyville, Fremont, North Chicago, Warren, Waukegan, and Zion-Benton.

A Note About Squares . . . ?

"It used to be a singular honor to be worthy of being called a square."

But the political rattle-brains and social beatniks would have you believe otherwise. To them integrity, probity, uprightness, trustworthiness, fidelity, freedom from fraud, etc., are characteristics that are beneath man's dignity.

"A Madison Avenue advertising agency president (of all people) has come out four-square to restore the 6-letter word to its proper place in everyday talk. Adman Chas. H. Brower reminds us that 'You gave him a square meal when he was hungry. When you got out of debt, you were square with the world. And that was when you could look your fellow man square in the eye.'"

"Then a lot of un-square characters ran down the word. Result: A square today is a man who never learned to get away with it; a Joe who volunteers when he doesn't have to; a guy who gets his kick from trying to do something better than anyone else can; a boob who gets lost in his work."

"Thank God for the old-time squares who discovered, put together and fought for and saved this country—Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, Paul Revere, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, and their many successors in the generations that have followed."

"Adman Brower dares us to get with it—get back to this nation's old beliefs in such things as 'ideas, pride, patriotism, loyalty, devotion—even hard work.'"

"How about joining the club?" — Momence Progress-Reporter.

Gets in Free. A little tot, in church for the first time, watched the ushers pass the collection plates. When they neared the pew, he piped up loudly. "Don't pay for me, Daddy, I'm under six."

Meet Bill Craig, Owner of The Ten Pin Grill

The new and attractive luncheon at the Antioch Bowl, the Ten Pin Grill, is finally, after numerous delays, fully equipped and open for business.

Bill Craig, proprietor, is a new face in Antioch. He's been doing business at the old lunch counter until the new equipment in the new portion of the alleys could be equipped.

Bill and his wife, Suzanne, are originally from Chicago, and now live in Fox Lake. They have three children, Bill, Jr., 8 years old; Kimberly, 5, and Mike, 4. Bill, Jr., attends the Fox Lake Down-town school.

When Bill isn't busy at the counter of his luncheon, he likes to fish and play golf. Not much golfing in this weather, of course.

This is the Craig's first attempt at running a luncheon. Suzanne does the basic cooking, Bill's fry cook and counterman most of the time.

Bill plans to stay open from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 a.m., Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 1:00 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. In addition to the regular lunch counter fare, he plans to serve a luncheon special every day.

Courthouse.....

a candidate for each post Judge Yager would stand an excellent chance of winning a full term and under the voting procedure set down by the Blue Ballot amendment, he would gain virtually lifetime tenure.

The court action filed in Circuit Court against the County of Lake, the Board of Supervisors and the Lake County Public Building Commission could delay construction on the new courthouse, but it should resolve definitely some sticky legal and moral problems.

Opponents of the building have maintained that the accumulation of surplus funds made possible by the three percent collection fee earned by the County Treasurer for the collection and distribution of taxes is illegal and immoral because a county board resolution in 1956 stated that these funds would be used to reduce or eliminate the county general corporate fund tax.

There is also a strong legal argument that no taxing body can tax more than what is needed to meet current needs.

This law, of course, makes it almost impossible for a local government to finance capital improvements without resorting to the issuing of interest-bearing bonds.

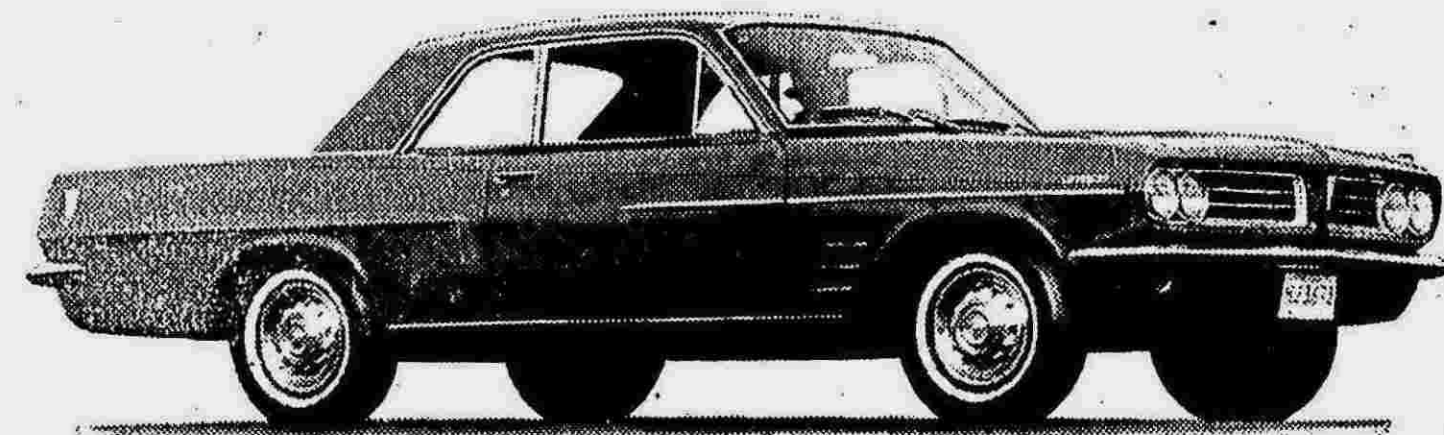

Actually more than just a courthouse is involved in the court action and it could have far-reaching effect on all public building.

Library Notes

Betty Lu Williams, Librarian

The Antioch library is interested in having art exhibits done by our local people. We would like to have you come in to see us about exhibiting your paintings—setting the date, number of pictures, etc. We plan to have the works of each artist on display for about six weeks, and depending on the number of paintings an artist wants to exhibit we may have room for the works of two artists at the same time. We hope to have a full schedule of artists, signed up by the first part of February and as there is a lot of talent in the area come in early to sign up.

Ruth Benis has some of her paintings on display and we now have some of Jacqueline Horton's on the early schools in our area. These are in the children's room and are as follows:

Old Antioch School—Built about 1850 on the northeast corner of Main and Depot streets.

Antioch Grade School—Built 1892. Upstairs room housed high school students prior to establishment of Antioch Township High School, at its present site, in 1915.

Antioch Township High School—Built in 1915—enrollment of 80 students—still standing—South Main near Route 173.

Old Johnson School—Built in 1840—located at junction of Route 173 and Deep Lake Road. Has been moved some from its original position and made into a home.

We hope you will visit your library to see these and keep on the look-out for different pictures each time.

Esteemed Contributor

On trips to his southern steel mills, Andrew Carnegie often chose to attend Sunday services at the nearest Negro church. On one trip, he was so impressed with the sermon and the preacher that he put a larger than usual contribution in the plate. After counting and recounting the collection, the preacher surveyed his congregation and announced: "This morning, we have in the collection $2.31. But if the bill put in by the gentleman, sitting in the rear by the door is genuine, we have $102.31."

WISHES OF THE YOUNG

"... But our young people have their practical side, too, and this is too often neglected in articles about them. They may hope for the best but they are completely aware that life will not be a walk along a peaceful, pleasant primrose path."

"By the time they enter high school the majority of boys and girls begin working toward their first objective—a college education. They know that they must keep up their grades and take an interest in the affairs of the school in order to qualify for College entrance."

"Hundreds of thousands of them work even harder for the scholarships that they know will mean the difference between going to college and going to work."

"Many not only carry a heavy load of studies and school activities but in addition find time to do part time work so they can help finance their higher education."

"They sometimes in a gripe at the hard time they are having, but who doesn't? They may often ask for things they would like to have but surprisingly few feel that they have been badly abused if their wishes cannot be fulfilled."

"There are, of course, a lot of young people who think the world is against them and that they are misunderstood and unappreciated. But for that matter there are a lot of adults on couches in psychiatrists' offices saying the same thing."

"They want the best that is obtainable in this world, and they hope to have it—but they are smart enough to know that everything contains a price tag and that if they take without paying they will run into trouble either with the cops or their creditors."

"There undoubtedly are boys and girls who think the world owes them a pleasant and profitable living... the ones we know understand the difference between wishing and expecting. They're good kids and in a few years they will be good adults."—Downers Grove Reporter.

Fiber Content Gives Clue To Sweater Quality

URBANA—One good clue to sweater quality is the fiber content, explains Esther Siemen, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist.

Here are some of the features you can anticipate in the various fibers:

Wool offers durability, resilience and warmth. It needs careful handling and cleaning because of its attractiveness to moths and its tendency to mat.

Cashmere is a luxurious fiber that produces a soft, almost silky feel. While not too durable as wool, it presents the same care problems. It may be blended with wool or nylon to add strength as well as to reduce the cost of the garment.

Watch for variations in the grade of cashmere. Usually the softer and silkier the fabric, the higher the quality.

Mohair, from Angora kids, has a fine, delicate appearance and an interesting texture in sweaters. The fiber is often blended with wool to make softer yarns and to reduce cost.

Another fiber that can be blended with wool or other fibers is rabbit hair, which adds a rich texture to the blend.

Of the man made fibers, rayon, nylon and the acrylics are most commonly used in sweaters.

Rayon is usually made into novelty sweaters with a nubby texture. These garments may need reblocking occasionally because they tend to lose shape in laundering.

Nylon may be found in the textured continuous filament or spun form. Sweaters made from the continuous filament form are less likely to pill than those with the spun form. On the other hand, spun nylon sweaters have a softer texture than the continuous filament type.

Orlon and other acrylic fibers have a softer, warmer feeling than nylon and are more resistant to wrinkling than nylon. Orlon Sayelle is less likely to pill or become fuzzy after washing than other orlon.

In sweaters made from a blend of fibers, the chief properties come from the fiber that is present in the largest percentage. Less than ten percent of a fiber in a blend gives only pattern and color effects.

Siemen says that you can easily tell the fiber content by checking the sweater label. But, since fiber content is only part of the picture in determining sweater quality, she suggests that you also consider such features as sweater and construction workmanship.

Salted Steps Are Safer, May Save Slips on Snow and Sleet

CHICAGO — Homemakers who live in the snow belt states can help their families get through the winter with less chance of accidents and injuries if they adapt the modern "bare pavement" highway maintenance measures to their own homes.

In reporting increased reliance on salt for quick removal of snow and ice from the nation's streets and highways, the Salt Institute projected safety and savings of facts based on accident records. The projection indicates that efficient "bare pavement" winter highway maintenance will save 325 lives, avert personal injuries to 32,000 persons and avoid half a billion dollars in storm losses.

Records from New York City showed that traffic accident fatalities and injuries were cut in half after the city began using salt to remove ice and snow from the streets. Homemakers can easily control ice and snow hazards around the home by using salt in much the same way the safety and street officials do.

Here's how the experts do it:

1. If possible, spread salt just as soon as the first snow flakes begin to fall. Sprinkle about one-fourth pound of salt per square yard of surface (about one handful per square of sidewalk). In light snowfall this may eliminate the need for shoveling. In heavier snow the brine prevents the snow from bonding to walk or drive.
2. In a continued snowfall, spread a second application of salt after the snow accumulates to a depth of two or three inches.
3. Before shoveling, wait until the salt has honey-combed the snow and the brine has spread out between the snow and the pavement. This lets the snow shovel glide under the snow.
4. Save your heart and energy by taking small shovelfuls. Don't overload the shovel when the snow is wet and heavy.
5. Spread another light application of salt after the walks and drives are cleared. This prevents an icy glaze from forming when temperatures drop.

As a final note, the Salt Institute suggests: Always carry emergency equipment such as tire chains, small shovel and a bag of salt in the trunk of the car. A few handfuls of salt applied at the rear wheels for traction can be a time and chill saver when stuck on slippery ice at the curb. This may be a lifesaver when stranded on ice in some dangerous intersection or hilly area.

Corny—But Necessary

Imagine, for a moment, what the holiday season would be like without corn. Greeting cards would curl up, gift boxes would lose their shape, stamps would not stick and bright colored inks would spread out as if they had been printed on a blotter. Paper products use corn starch coatings for stiffness, the gum on stamps is frequently a starch-based adhesive and inks contain starch for binding purposes.

Gifts? Eliminate those items in which corn played some role and the gift-giving custom would suffer grievously. There would be virtually no dolls, wagons, flashlights, aluminum products, leather boots, cotton clothing, books, cigarettes, electric trains, sleds, coloring books (for both children and adults), certain plastic toys, games and cosmetic products.

Take away all the foods that contain products from corn and about the only things left on the holiday table would be fruit and fish. Corn syrup, starch, oil and dextrose are widely used in ice cream, candy, cake, cookies, pickles, salad dressing, bread, soft drinks, jellies and literally hundreds of other foods. In addition, corn serves as a feed for the animals that produce eggs, milk, bacon, steaks, ham, chicken and turkey meat.

And when 1963 was welcomed in, no doubt corn played its part at the festive occasion as part of the decorations, noisemakers, food and beverages.

It is wise for all motorists to respect other drivers and pedestrians and to keep the safety of others uppermost in their minds, says the Chicago Motor Club. People who drive with these thoughts in mind will enjoy their driving more than ever—and, more important, are less likely to be involved in an accident.

seven other Lake County communities, showed a drop in the number of businesses operating.

The Grayslake paper, in an editorial, reported exactly opposite findings, and listed Antioch along with Mundelein and Zion as showing a drop in businesses.

Our figures, we'd like to assure you, are correct. The Grayslake reporter evidently got his columns confused. We checked with the Dun & Bradstreet representative, who assured us the Grayslake paper had made a mistake. And Antioch did show an increase in the number of businesses operating last year. So, to quote the editorial in the Grayslake press, "We'll not venture any further comments on the figures, but let you do your own speculations from the following list."

Keep Sidewalk Clean If You Want Mail

If you don't keep your sidewalks, steps and approaches to rural mail boxes free of snow and ice you may not get mail.

The Antioch postoffice is much concerned, says Postmaster Roy Kufalk, at the growing laxity of citizens in not cleaning sidewalks and approaches to rural boxes. They are advised that mail boxes will not be served when

Announce Pay Raises for State Police Officers

Governor Otto Kerner has announced pay raises for all uniformed personnel of the Illinois State Police ranging from $40 a month for troopers in first and second years of service to $25 for those in the next two grades, and $15 for all others.

Joseph E. Ragen, director of the Department of Public Safety, said some state troopers in the starting scales "have found it necessary to seek other part-time employment to provide for the necessities of their families."

"Outside employment is discouraged. Their effectiveness as policemen requires they be alert at all times to perform their duties," Ragen said.

New salaries by grade with old rates in parentheses, follow:

Trooper, first year—$460 ($420); trooper, second year—$470 ($430); trooper, third year—$480 ($455); trooper, fourth year—$510 ($485); sidewalks and porch steps are not cleaned.

Many carriers are hurt each winter season due to icy sidewalks and porch steps leading to patrons' mail boxes.

Both village and rural residents are asked to keep approaches to mail boxes free from obstruction and in condition to approach safely. If they are not, mail service to such boxes may be discontinued.

6½ Million Sought For TV Network For Education

Chicago, Dec. 20 — The School Problems Commission today recommended that the 73rd General Assembly allocate slightly more than $6½ million for the construction of a statewide educational television network. The requested appropriation would also finance the operation of the network during the 73rd biennium.

Action by the Commission culminated a recommendation last January by State Superintendent of Public Instruction George T. Wilkins who proposed the State of Illinois consider construction of an educational network which would bring educational TV to all areas of the state.

The proposed network, which would be connected by a two-channel microwave system would include participation by the three existing educational stations — WT-TW, Chicago; WSIU, operated by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale; and WLL, operated by the University of Illinois, Champaign—all VHF, very-high frequency stations. Under the proposal, funds are included to maximize the broadcasting power coverage of WILL and WSIU.

Construction is also proposed to establish nine UHF, ultra-high frequency stations at or near Newton, Edwardsville, Springfield, Macomb, Kewanee, DeKalb, Kankakee, Normal and possibly Charleston. Low powered translator stations as engineering necessity requires and proposed for certain areas in southeastern and northwestern Illinois, would complete the goal of 100 per cent statewide signal coverage.

Dr. Robert Shultz, supervisor for instructional television in the office of the superintendent of public instruction told the commission that the proposed network would provide availability of educational TV programs for all school levels from kindergarten through college. Shultz said private schools would be able to participate. The network would also schedule community telecasting for the general public.

Costs for providing Illinois with the network should be examined in terms of what the schools would have to pay to achieve the same results without educational television. Dr. Shultz told the commission. He quoted from an Anaheim, California, school district TV study which revealed that for about $18,000 that district has instituted a televised elementary language program, that would otherwise cost about $160,000 if enough skilled teachers could be found. Another example: Televised music instruction is estimated to cost about $8,000; in conventional teaching, such a program would cost closer to $80,000. Moreover, Anaheim schoolmen estimate that within the next three years, if educational television had not been available, about $360,000 would have had to be budgeted just for salaries for new teachers, assuming they could be found.

Specific recommendations, prepared by a television subcommittee, adopted today by the School Problems Commission include the following:

1. That the superintendent of public instruction be appointed the official educational television agency for the State of Illinois and that the office of public instruction serve as the co-ordinate administrative staff for the educational TV network.
2. That appropriate legislation be submitted to the 193 General Assembly to authorize the establishment of the Illinois State Educational TV network.
3. That the superintendent of public instruction be given a budget for administration and operation of the network.
4. That the superintendent of public instruction appoint a director for the network with necessary administrative staff, including a chief engineer for the system; a secretary and a budget clerk with direct responsibility to the director.
5. That all fiscal business of the network be handled by the finance officers and staff of the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

Plan Helps Patients

Many severely retarded patients at Lincoln State School are beginning new lives in their senior years. They are riding in automobiles, often for the first time, visiting supermarkets, attending church services at ages as high as 75.

These patients, many of who have spent half a century or more at Lincoln, are being placed in shelter care homes under the direction of Mrs. Janice Schroth, a supervisory nurse, and Mrs. Ruth M. Bartle.

According to Mrs. Schroth, nearly 120 patients have been placed in homes in the two years since the program, known as the Family Care Plan, began.

Two things in life I've had and ample: Good advice and bad example.

The work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and confidence.

How very timely is this pronouncement. Prayers for peace on earth are powers for good. They help to make all of us confident, despite troubled times, because we are secure in the knowledge that ours is the righteous cause.

trooper, fifth year — $525 ($510).

Corporal — $545 ($530); sergeant — $575 ($560); lieutenant — $670 ($655); captain — $715 ($700); major — $710 ($775).

Work on Fall-Out Shelters Is Stymied

Surveys were carried out in the village of Antioch in 1962 to determine which two-story buildings in the village would be suitable for fall-out shelters.

Each place considered was carefully checked by John L. Horan, local civil defense director. Buildings are checked for capacity, the need for repairs to bring the basement up to acceptability for housing a number of persons in an emergency, and getting the consent of the property owner for use of the building.

Mr. Horan says he has all the material necessary to proceed with the work but is stopped by his inability to get an answer to one question: "Who is responsible for liabilities?"

Information has been received, Mr. Horan says, that during the coming session of the state legislature an amendment to the State Civil Defense Act will be voted on absolving property owners from liability in connection with the fall-out shelter program. If the legislation is passed, Illinois will join the 30 states which have already passed such legislation.

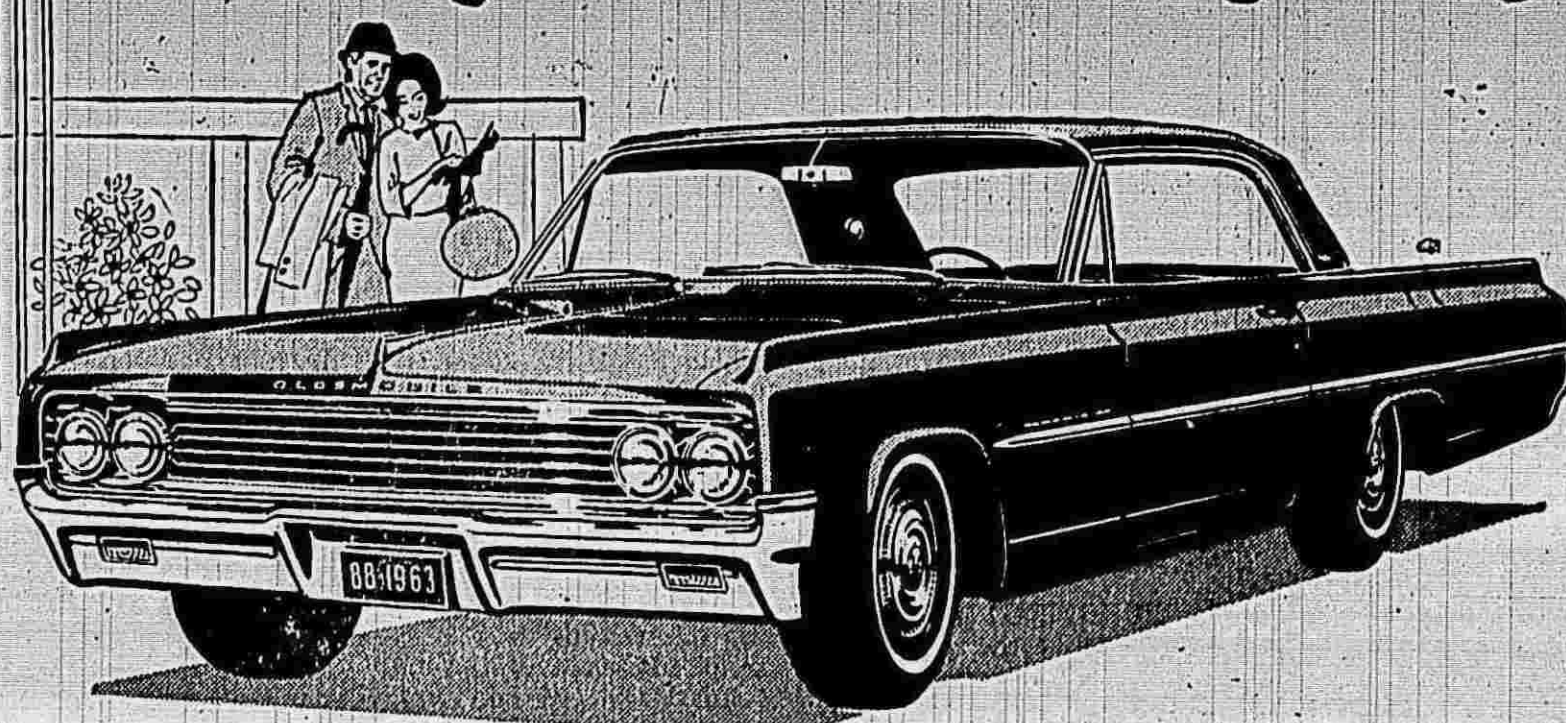

Thirteen persons were killed in small car accidents last year under adverse road conditions, compared to 66 killed in heavier cars driven under the same conditions. A total of 249,906 small cars (shipping weight of less than 2,000 pounds) were registered in Illinois in 1961, or one in sixteen.

Translated into comparative percentages, the death toll on snow and ice covered roads was 7.7 per cent small car fatalities, against 4.8 per cent for the heavier cars traveling Illinois highways.

As an additional danger, small cars overturned twice as often as other cars in similar type accidents.

No one is too old to donate his eyes, after his death, to the Illinois Eye Bank. Color of eyes, sex and race do not matter.

"Lady" Hauled Overland To Lake Geneva Home

"The Lady of the Lake," the first new excursion boat to be built exclusively for the Lake Geneva area in 37 years, was recently delivered to the Gage Marine Corporation.

Styled by Brook Stevens, the stern-wheeler was delivered in two parts, which will be completed at the Gage Corporation.

The 60 x 10-foot hull of welded steel was recently moved overland via truck from the shipyards of the Dubuque Boat and Boiler Company, Dubuque, Iowa, to the Gage Marine Corporation of Williams Bay, on Lake Geneva, Wis. A second truck carried the prefabricated superstructure which, when added to the hull, will complete a beautiful 150-passenger Coast Guard certified vessel for the enjoyment of visitors to Lake Geneva.

Movement of an 18-foot-wide structure over a 20-foot bridge and down 150 miles of 20-foot-wide highways is not an easy chore. Traffic was stopped on the Julien Dubuque Bridge from Dubuque to East Dubuque to allow passage to Illinois. Plagmen escorted the monstrous cargo to the Wisconsin line from which point the Wisconsin Highway Patrol took over and provided police escort for the remaining miles to her Lake Geneva destination.

The hull is being completed and outfitted in the shipyards of the Gage Marine Corporation at Williams Bay. Work will continue throughout the winter and the "Lady of the Lake" will be launched in April of 1963.

In order that construction might continue throughout the winter months it was necessary to make many changes at the Boat Yard. A 15-ton crane has been installed and a new marine railroad with 70 tons capacity was built. Perhaps the most radical change is that the 6 large excursion boats presently in excursion service will be left in the water in front of the boat yard during the winter months instead of being hauled out and stored on their ways. To accomplish this, 8 Besley Welles Aqua Therm units have been installed which will prevent ice from forming around the boats and the two large docking piers. The public is invited to visit the boat yard and watch the progress of this new project.

The craft, when completed, will be 96 feet in overall length and have a beam of 24 feet. Power will be by twin diesel engines with a diesel generator for auxiliary use. Two decks will afford ample seating and room for merry-making. There will be complete galley facilities and an area for a distilland band.

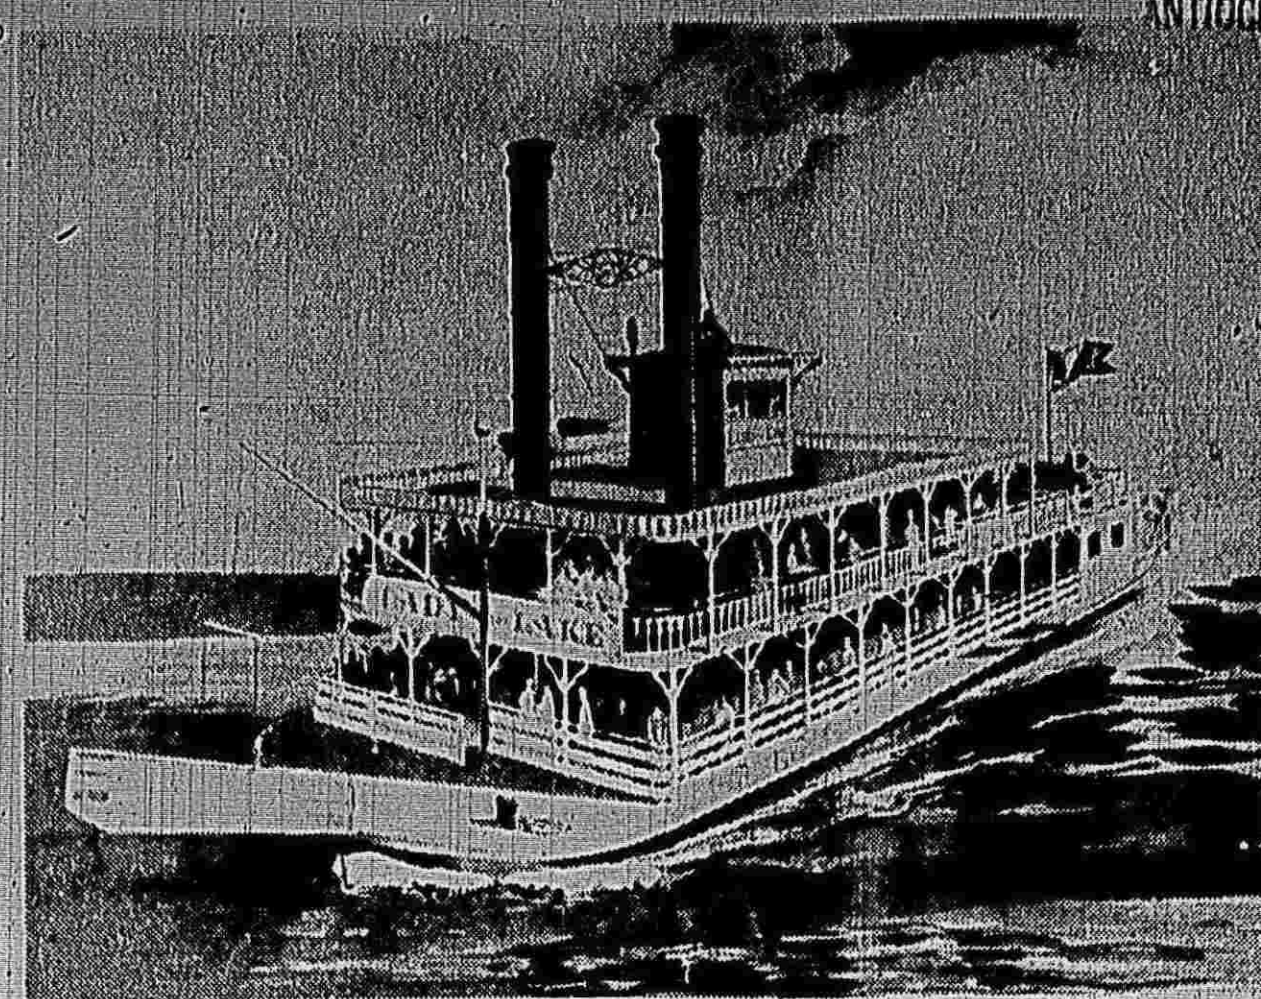

This unique craft will be operating during the summer of 1963 from the Lake Geneva docks on the Abbey docks in Pontiana. Charter parties are now being booked for the summer of 1963. All bookings are being handled by the Gage Marine Corporation of Williams Bay, Wis. Gage Marine Corporation operates several sight seeing and excursion vessels on Lake Geneva, this one being the latest addition to a growing fleet. Russell and William Gage, owners, also operate extensive storage, repair and sales facilities at the Williams Bay location and are contemplating further expansion.

Public Aid In Illinois Declines

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 11—Stability in the Aid to Dependent Children program and continued declines in General Assistance highlighted public aid trends in November with the result that the state load fell for the eighth consecutive month—this time by 2,046 persons—according to a report released by Harold O. Swank, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

Swank said recipients in November totaled 423,339 compared with 425,385 the previous month and 433,359 in November 1961. During the past 12 months the state public aid load dropped by 10,020 recipients.

In November, the number of persons receiving Public Aid in Lake County was 2,211, receiving a total of $110,680.

Flat Top Containers

Approximately 7,000 cartons of milk and cream were seized at various retail outlets statewide last week by inspectors of the Illinois Department of Agriculture's Division of Weights and Measures.

The milk and cream were seized because deceptive and misleading flat top containers were being used. Some cartons were as much as 20 percent larger than necessary and tended to mislead the consumer as to the exact amount of liquid contained. Department of Agriculture regulations require that flat top containers be filled with 1/4-inch of the top.

Stress Conservation in Kenosha County Schools

Conservation is becoming increasingly more important in our schools today according to Lee Smith, County Horticulture Agent. Most of the schools in Kenosha County are teaching various phases of conservation. The need for this training will become greater as the population increases and greater demands are made on our outdoor areas. With population growth more problems and conflicts develop for hunting, fishing, and nature appreciation areas.

The citizen of tomorrow needs to learn today how to conserve our limited resources for the use of future generations. Learning how to respect another person's property is a part of conservation education.

The youth have many opportunities for learning about nature outside the classroom through the scout and 4-H programs. For instance, the 4-H program has projects on Soil and Water Conservation, Wildlife Management, Wildflowers, Birds, Insects, Forestry, and Nature Conservation.

Smith said some schools are beginning to conduct outdoor classes. Woodworth and Randall Schools have started programs of a few days camping that include classes on nature and conservation. Some schools have also started conservation corners on the school property where trees and game food shrubs are planted.

An interesting set of animal and bird charts are available to schools where conservation studies are initiated and a visit is made to the conservation center at the Poyntette Game Farm. The charts are in color and come in a set of eight. Scout, 4-H, and other youth groups can get these charts, too, if they include a trip to Poyntette in their conservation activities.

Arrangements for these tours should be made before going to Poyntette to allow for scheduling of the group. It is recommended that such tours be made April 1.

Professor Robert Ellarson of the University of Wisconsin, conducts weekly radio and TV programs for schools. "Wonderful World of Nature" is on WHA every Monday forenoon at 9:30 and the "Outdoor World" will start February 5, 1963, on WHA-TV. The time for that program will be 11:15 a.m. Tuesdays and 10:15 a.m. on Wednesdays. These programs will end in May—at the end of the school year.

Sequoits Swamp Panthers, Edge North Chicago

Week-End Games Will End a Three-Way Tie

Antioch moved into a three way tie for second place in the Northwest Suburban Conference race Friday night by soundly beating Round Lake 71 to 49 on the losers' court. Sharing second place with Antioch are Wauconda and Grant. All have 3 and 2 records and trail conference leading Lake Forest by 2 full games.

Doug Lang led the Sequoits in one of their best offensive efforts to date. Lang dumped in 27 points and was also the strong man on the boards, gathering in 15 rebounds.

The Sequoits moved into a 19 to 11 first quarter lead and fought off a Panther rally in the second period to end the half with a 34 to 26 advantage. The Sequoits poured in 22 points in a hot third quarter to pull well out in front and coasted to victory 71 to 49.

Sharp passing and an aggressive defense proved the main factors in the Sequoit victory with Doug Lang leading the way. John Hallways and Bob Kubicki shared in offensive honors with 15 and 12 points respectively. Hallways also gave a boost in the rebounding department, trailing Lang with 13 rebounds. The two squads were even up in rebounds with 38 for Antioch and 37 for Round Lake. The Sequoits hit a respectable 48% from the field, cashing in on 33 field goals, to 33% for the Panthers.

Jim Brownlee also gave a good account of himself, racking up 8 points while being credited with at least 7 assists. Dennis Carter and Glen Waters led the scoring for the losers with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Win or lose, the Sequoits will make it at least a two way tie for second Friday, January 18 when they meet the Wauconda Bulldogs at Wauconda. Wauconda is riding on a 9 and 3 record for the season, losing only to Grant and Lake Forest. The Sequoits' season's record thus far is 8 wins against 4 losses. The losses were against McHenry in the season's opener, Lake Forest, Grant and Zion-Benton.

The Warhawks took 71 shots at the basket hitting on 30% of them while the Sequoits hit 52% of their 35 attempts. Many of the North Chicago misses came from close in. Antioch had 16 turnovers, ie: losing control of the ball without attempting a basket, in the contest.

It was a tight game throughout with neither team enjoying a comfortable lead. Antioch ended a slow moving first quarter with a three point edge 13 to 10 but the Warhawks rallied to within one point at halftime. The scoreboard read 26 to 25.

North Chicago went out in front at the opening of the second half, but the Sequoits came surging back to take the lead again. The two squads battled back and forth throughout the third and fourth periods until Antioch stalled for the final minute and protected their slim margin.

Age or Youth? Score Will Tell

Arthritis League Battles Time and Team of Sons
Carrying a few more pounds and a little more age, the Antioch High School faculty will come out of retirement once again for their annual basketball fray against the High School "A" Club.

The benefit game has been scheduled for January 26 at the high school and will feature the Freshman Fathers against their sons as a preliminary game.

Roger Andrews indicated that barring any serious attacks of arthritis his team will be at full strength the 26th. Bob Kubicki, ace scorer for the Sequoit varsity team, will be on the sidelines acting as coach for the "A" club.

The game is for the benefit of the Athletic Department and this year's project is a new camera for the department. The camera will be used as a teaching aid, primarily in varsity sports. The films will also be available to local church and service groups, a representative said.

"Most major colleges when looking for prospective talent require good films of our athletic contests," Andrews said. "If we can obtain an athletic scholarship for only one boy, the expenditure is well worth it," he added.

Game time is set for 8:15.

2000 Brave Cold to Compete in Ice Derby

By Harry H. Stern
More than 2000 frost-bit fishermen and women braved below zero temperatures Sunday (Jan. 13) to divvy up their share of over $1,000 in prizes, at the Northern Illinois Conservation Club's second annual ice fishing derby which was held on the south end of Channel Lake, west of Antioch.

The heat of the competition dispelled the bitter cold as the anglers hauled in their catches. Even the finny denizens joined in the excitement of the day as they cooperated in the event by biting avidly all day.

Wm. Wehrmyer, Deerfield, brought in the oddest catch, a mudpuppy. "Smallest fish of the day" honors were captured by James Kever, Rockford, with a 1-inch bluegill which was too small to register on the scales, while largest fish of the day was taken handily by George Pahlke, Antioch, with his 1 1/4-pound largemouth bass. Young Dan Matteoni, Antioch, demonstrated the superiority of ice augers for biting through thick ice, which measured 16 inches in this instance, by going through in 13 seconds, to outdistance all entrants in this contest, while it took John Dingrando, Chicago, 35 seconds to accomplish the same result with an ice chisel.

Mrs. Votava, Chicago, with her guess of 140, came within 1 of hitting the exact number of minnows swimming around in a jar, and Bill Morris came up with the exact weight of a cake of ice which tilted the beam at 73 pounds.

There were winners in skating races for children in 7 to 9 and 10 to 12 year age groups as well as fishing contests for men and women.

The meet closed at 4 p.m., even as the fishermen continued fishing, now for the sport of it.

Bruce Muench, conservation department biologist was judge, and game warden Lloyd Leable served as recorder of entries.

All-Stars & Old Fitz to Clash on Lanes Sunday

The five top bowlers in the Antioch Major League will bowl a three game match with the Old Fitzgerald team of Chicago, on Sunday, Jan. 20, at the Antioch Bowl.

As a preliminary to the big match of the day, two former well-known baseball players will bowl a three game match, starting at 1:30 p.m. Gabby Hartnett, former catcher and now proprietor of the Gabby Hartnett Lanes in Chicago, will meet Bob O'Farrell, former owner of the O'Farrell Lanes in Waukegan.

Spectators are invited to view both exhibition matches free of charge. A collection for the March of Dimes will be taken by the Antioch Woman's Club during the bowling.

Willie Hanke, one of the Majors' top bowlers, will not be able to compete because of previous commitment. This moves Bob Platt, with the sixth high average, into the Antioch All-Stars team.

Bowling for the Antioch All-Stars will be "Chuck" Moran, George Smith, Marion Diana, Joe Sterbenz and Bob Platt. "Skinny" Gerretsen will serve as alternate in case any of the men is unable to bowl.

The well-known Old Fitz team is the only team ever to win the City and State scratch championship in the same year. In the St. Louis ABC Tournament, the team shot the fifth best total in the history of the ABC—3202, good for second place behind a record breaking 3221.

Members of the Old Fitz team are:

Les Zikes, Jr., who led the Chicago Classic League Home Division last year with a 206 average. He shot a 723 in the A.B.C. Tournament last year.

Harry Lippe, recent winner of the Dell Mac Singles tournament. With Ed Kawolies as his partner, he won the State Doubles championship two years in a row.

Otto Niehus, well-known to Antioch bowlers because of his several appearances here with the Old Fitz team. Otto recently finished second in the Champaign Singles Classic with a score of 1122 for five games.

Jim Stefanich, the 20-year-old baby of the team, proved his mettle last year when he finished third in a field of over 400 top bowlers in the Masters tournament.

Ed Kawolies bowling record is familiar to all fans of the sport. He has been a member of the World Championship teams, State Doubles Champ, a finalist in both the All-Star and World's Invitational Tournaments. A frequent figure on TV, on of Ed's biggest thrills came two years ago when he won the Don Devito Classic.

The Old Fitz team is presently averaging 1008 and are in second place in the Chicago Classic league, one game behind the Hamm's Beer team.

There's a new gadget on the market for you fellows who prefer to tie your own snells on fish hooks, and for the guys who would like to do same-wise. I've got one and it works. I've been tying monofilament snells on my favorite bluegill and crappie hooks like there will be no tomorrow. It's the same size as a small ball-point pen and it does a like-factory job. If you wanna know where to get one, drop me a line at the Antioch News and I'll tell you.

Do firemen keep dogs around the firehouse so they can find the fire-plugs?

That nosy bunch at Sorenson's bait foundry finally breached the secret of where we get our king-size bluegills on Indian Point. Led by "Pierre" Chinn, "Fingers" Frisell, Ernie DiLabio, Doc Jensen and Pete Matteoni, thinned 'em out with a vengeance. They were running 2 and 3 to the lb.

And how about how I said last week that the Channel Lake bluegills were saving themselves for the NICC ice fishing derby? They did just that—everybody caught lots of 'em and they were running large—some up to a half pound.

Glady's Zobus was a "sad sack" winner of the derby. She left her fishing pole just long enough to make a purchase at Willis Shannon's refreshment stand and got back in time to see hook, line and pole disappear into the hole. She swears that was the winner of the "largest fish of the day" prize on the other end of her pole.

A picture to see was 14-year-old, Dan Matteoni going through 16 inches of ice with his ice auger to win the contest in just 13 seconds. Sales of augers should soar after that exhibition. The vine-grape has it that Gibbs & Jensen are out trying to get a "corner" on the market.

"Walleye" Brozik's family are just naturally "fishy." His handsome ma-in-law made a terrific guess of the number of minnows swimming around in a big jar and came within 1 of being right on the nose. How do those gals do it?

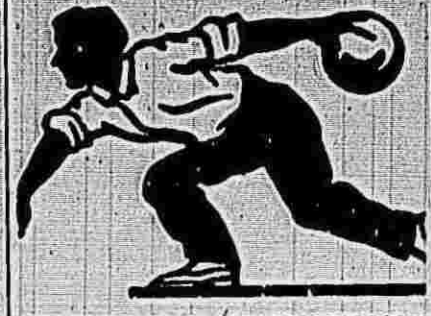

"Rugdest man of the year" award was won hands down by 72 year old Al Moore of Channel Lake. He stayed on his post on 173 across from Charlie's all day, parking cars and selling tickets. His was the coldest and windiest spot in the area, and he wound up with a fist-full of "greens" for the club. What a man.

Scouts Win 5 Straight

Lake Forest strengthened its hold on first place in the Northwest Suburban Conference Friday night by rolling over a highly rated Grant squad, 66 to 45, at Ingleside.

The victory was the Scouts' 5 straight in Conference play and opened their lead to two games. Grant, Wauconda and Antioch are knotted in second place with 3 and 2 records.

The Scouts threw a tight man-to-man defense at the Bulldogs that kept them off balance throughout most of the contest. Lake Forest moved into a 10 to 7 first quarter lead as both teams had a little trouble finding the range.

The Scouts poured in 21 points during a hot second quarter and left the court at halftime leading 31 to 18. The winners outpointed their foes 22 to 16 in the third period and coasted to the victory in the final stanza.

CHEVROLET...the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

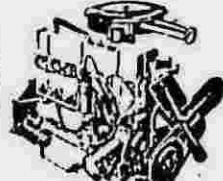

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

2 NEW 6-CYLINDER ENGINES

New High Torque 230-cu.-in. Six is lighter but more powerful than its predecessor. It is standard in Series C10 through C50 models.

New High Torque 292-cu.-in. Six—most powerful truck 6 Chevrolet has ever built! Standard in Series C60, optional at extra cost in lighter models.

Local PTAs Will Honor Founders

Throughout its 66 years of concern for children and youth in the nation, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has sought to develop public attitudes that will meet the needs of our young people in the home, the school and the community.

During the month of February, the local PTAs in Illinois will honor the founders of the national organization. Their programs will also give recognition to those who have served as presidents of their local associations.

The Illinois Congress of

Parents and Teachers has worked diligently to serve the children of the state through arousing public interest to the needs of the public school systems so that greatly increased funds and improved curricula are available.

Lay leadership courses in parent education have been conducted in many areas of the state with the Chicago area program now in its 17th year.

Many hundreds of scholarships have been awarded to students in teacher training through the Golden Jubilee Scholarship program.

The local PTAs invite the public to join in their celebrations honoring the National PTA founders: Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Alice McLellan Birney.

munity who have not as yet received a high school diploma, but have reached their 21st birthday.
